

XM Satellite Radio offers a very valuable service in its traffic and weather channels. The general public benefits from the availability of this service. I certainly hope that special interest groups will not be successful in their attempt to block XM's traffic and weather channels, as this would benefit them to the detriment of society in general.